

SAC Collaborates with the My Hero Project to Collect Stories of Community Heroes

To help us all stay positive in these difficult times caused by the Corona Virus, SAC and My Hero have mounted a contest in which elementary, middle school, and high school students write about heroes in their own community who have stepped up to help during the pandemic. Mr. Rogers has famously quoted his mother, who said “Look for the helpers. You will always find people who are helping.”

Who are the helpers in your community? Write your essay about them and participate in this contest. Submit your entry by June 1.

Coronavirus Community Heroes

Essay Contest | Deadline 6/1

*Write about someone helping others during the pandemic.
All ages welcome!*

Teachers, parents, and students can explore examples of stories, short films, and art work about heroes and heroism at the My Hero website: www.myhero.com. A recent addition to the lesson plans and other resources for educators is “Using MY HERO Free Resources for Language Arts,” available at <https://myhero.com/using-my-hero-homeschooling-resources-for-language-arts>. Here you will find examples of essays written by students, as well as a template for the 5-paragraph essay. Become inspired by others’ works and share your own.

Winners will be announced in the categories elementary, middle, and high school, as well as professional contributors. Each winner will receive a $50 Amazon gift card, a certificate, and a MY HERO t-shirt.

Entries will be judged on the telling of a detailed story of their community hero that flows well through the essay. Enter at <https://myhero.com/coronavirus-community-heroes-call-for-entries>
