

Summer Solstice Story-Sharing Picnic at Blake House Gardens

70 Rincon Road, Kensington, CA 94707
<http://blakegarden.ced.berkeley.edu>

Friday, June 21st
11 – 2ish

Bring:

Your lunch + something to share, if you like.
Something to sit upon.
Yourself and friends!

A story, song or poem to share in a spot of your choosing in the lovely, storied gardens!

~ Weather? Anyone's guess – think layers! ~

Questions/RSVP: Jean Ellisen 510-527-1141
jellisen@sbcglobal.net

About Blake Garden:

The 10.6 acre public garden, with its stunning hill views of the San Francisco Bay and the Golden Gate, is located four miles north of the Berkeley campus in the town of Kensington. Our mission is to expand and sustain a well designed outdoor environment that supports teaching and research in Landscape Architecture and Environmental Planning.

Blake Garden encourages the development of understanding and appreciation of nature in the garden environment. The garden contains a large diversity of plant materials that grow in our Mediterranean type climate and contains new and historic garden design and structures designed and built by UC Professors from the College of Environmental Design, students and the garden's staff.